Dynamite Probably Stolen.

The officers are working hard to determine where the robbers secured the dynamite with which they were so well supplied. That portion of the explosional property Sheriffs W. W. Heeler and George Wiley have left for the north on a special locomotive. They refused to give out their destination, but it is believed to be either Keswick, Copley or Kennett. The officers did acknowledge, however, just before leaving that there may be an arrest of bandits before they return. The small posse is supplied.
